

Kelly Morris

Kelly Morris is the Co-Founder of Almost Home Ministries, serving faithfully alongside her cousin, Robin Wolfe. Her unwavering faith in the Lord has been a steady foundation—not only in her own life, but in the lives of countless women who have walked through the doors of Almost Home. Her trust in God, especially in seasons of uncertainty, helped birth the vision of this ministry and continues to sustain it today.

Saved at just 13 years old, Kelly has been involved in ministry in some capacity ever since. While she never imagined her path would lead to working in women's recovery—and though she has never personally struggled with addiction—God uniquely prepared her heart through various life experiences that allow her to relate with compassion, wisdom, and understanding. Her ability to meet women where they are is a reflection of Christ's love at work within her.

Kelly's love for God and for others is evident not only in what she says, but in how she lives. She leads with humility, steadiness, and grace, consistently pointing others back to Jesus. Her faith has strengthened many and will continue to impact lives for years to come.

Above all, Kelly treasures her role as a mother to her son, Isaac. She has faithfully trained him up to follow Jesus, loving him deeply and modeling a life devoted to Christ.

Together, Kelly and Robin stand on the belief that restoration is possible for every woman—because of the unchanging faithfulness of God.
